Our Profile
ABM is the national mission agency of the Anglican Church of Australia working with overseas and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and communities. We have a holistic view of God’s mission. We work with Anglican Church partners and others to see lives empowered and transformed spiritually, materially and socially. We help the Anglican Church and the wider community realise and respond to the invitation for all to be a part of God’s hope for the world.

Our Purpose
ABM believes in a world where all people enjoy God’s promise of love, hope and justice. We work to see this belief become a reality.

Our Vision
ABM wants to see people everywhere experience the wholeness of life God offers in Jesus Christ, and supports our Partners as they participate in God’s mission.

Our Values
As individuals and as an organisation we embrace the following values:

Faithfulness to God. We celebrate the capacity of every person to respond to God’s love. Holding a clear Christian commitment we respect the traditions and beliefs of other faiths.

Integrity in every aspect of our work. We pursue transparency and accountability in all matters.

Respect for the created order and human dignity. Our mission has its basis in God’s unconditional love made known in Christ. We acknowledge our responsibility to care for Creation. We respect the dignity and vulnerability of each person and seek to emulate God’s love in our relations with others.

Wise management of our resources. Recognising the fine balance between good stewardship and compassionate action we commit ourselves to practical, equitable and merciful outcomes.

Creativity and hard work. We believe that innovation and resourcefulness, combined with diligence, will have a powerful and positive impact on the struggle for justice.

Relational reciprocity. In our internal and external relationships we commit to genuine two-way engagement, shared learning, honesty and cultural sensitivity.

Caring for and serving others. Taking our inspiration from the example of Christ who modelled love and compassion for others.

Five Marks Of Mission
ABM grounds all of its work in one or more of these Marks of Mission:

1. Witness to Christ’s saving, forgiving and reconciling love for all people
2. Build welcoming, transforming communities of faith
3. Stand in solidarity with the poor and needy
4. Challenge violence, injustice and oppression, and work for peace and reconciliation
5. Protect, care for and renew life on our planet

This past year ABM has strengthened our partnership with the National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Anglican Council (NATSIAC). We have a strong commitment to continue supporting projects which include theological and leadership training, youth engagement and education, and mission grants for activities which benefit First Nations People. ABM also received a strong endorsement from NATSIAC and others for the study ‘A Voice in the Wilderness: Listening to the Statement from the Heart’. Written by ABM’s Reconciliation Coordinator Celia Kemp, it aims to open up a conversation about the church’s theological response to the Statement from the Heart.

ABM’s Church to Church program’s strategy has focused on leadership training and theological education for the year. This has meant that there has been renewed interest in Newton Theological College in Papua New Guinea, with the project featured throughout various campaigns (National Auxiliary Appeal, Martyrs Appeal, November Appeal). It is vital that we continue to support initiatives which build up our Partner Churches through strong leadership.

The Anglicans in Development (AID) program continues to take up the challenge of funding cuts to foreign aid and is working on new strategies to offset this. One of the significant milestones reached this year was the celebration of 25 years of partnering with the Episcopal Church of the Philippines in community development work. A delegation representing the Prime Bishop, the Most Reverend Joel Pachao, visited Australia in September to mark the occasion.

There has been an increased focus on the Fundraising and Marketing strategy with the formation of a committee to oversee the program.

ABM has assigned Lyn Moorfoot as the new Supporter Engagement Manager. Lyn comes to us with a background of experience in philanthropy, business development and stakeholder engagement. She has been involved within the Anglican Church of Australia over a number of years – in particular in Brisbane, Melbourne and Sydney.

ABM has engaged the Reverend Dr Ivan Head as the Gifts in Wills Officer, with a focus on further expanding the Bequests program. Ivan has had a significant involvement in the area of Fundraising and Benefaction during his many years as the warden of St Paul’s College, Sydney University and prior to that, had served as warden of a similar College in Tasmania. ABM is grateful for the many people who have opted to leave a legacy to ABM in their will so that our work can continue.

As I reflect on the year gone by, I remember the many people who have served ABM, including Bishop Ken Mason, former ABM Chair, who passed away over this period. Fortunately, there have also been many opportunities to formally recognise the significant contributions made by former staff, missionaries and volunteers through the ABM Coaldrake Award. Our work would not be possible without our staff, volunteers and partners, so I am thankful for their efforts.

I commend the report and continue to ask for your prayers and support for ABM’s work.

Yours in Christ,

The Rev John Deane
ABM Executive Director
In the past year ABM has continued to place high priority on leadership development and theological education through our support of Wontulp-Bi-Buya College and Nungalinya College. ABM is encouraging theological students from different parts of Australia to make a Pilgrimage to Wontulp-Bi-Buya College in Cairns to engage with theology from an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspective. ABM continues to provide financial assistance to the Diocese of the Northern Territory, Gawura School and the Reverend Gloria Shipp.

Our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander mission priorities are determined in consultation with NATSIAC (National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Anglican Council). In 2018 ABM launched a new process for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Mission Grants which involves grant applications being appraised by NATSIAC. In the last year we have provided grants to assist with truth telling, teenage pregnancy support, church planting and youth activities.

Through our Education work, ABM seeks to bring contemporary mission theology to life by connecting theory to the lived experiences of the Australian church and our partners across the world. In 2018 we worked with the Anglican Church Southern Queensland to organise the Abundant Justice and Prophetic Imagination conference which included a number of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander speakers. The proceedings of the conference are available at www.abundantjustice.com.

Thanks to a grant from the Society of the Sacred Mission ABM was able to publish A Voice in the Wilderness, ABM’s theological response to the Statement from the Heart. We also released a new app for Advent titled Songs from a Strange Land: An Australian Advent Calendar. The app will be available in book format for Advent 2019.

ABM also continues to raise awareness of the Global Goals for Sustainable Development which were endorsed by the General Synod of the Anglican Church of Australia in 2017.

Now to God who by the power at work within us is able to accomplish abundantly far more than all we can ask or imagine, be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus to all generations, forever and ever. Amen.

With generous and steadfast support from our ABM supporters and aid funding received from the Australian government, 50,705 people benefited from our community development program in FY2018-19. ABM(AID) worked with 8 overseas partners and engaged with more than 50 communities last year. Additionally, ABM’s humanitarian response program reached an estimated 12,000 disaster-affected people in PNG, the Philippines, Indonesia, Mozambique, Palestine, Myanmar, Solomon Islands, Tonga and Vanuatu.

ABM (AID) continued to be driven by two strategic objectives in our work with partners:

1. to assist community groups and community leaders to become champions and examples of positive change that can inspire others; and

2. to introduce new practices and resources that assist people, especially the poor and disadvantaged, to enjoy whole and meaningful lives.

Women and girls comprised 60% of people reached by our development program last year. In Zambia, our new integrated gender project reached more than three times the numbers planned as four project staff and 60 members of gender action groups worked extremely hard to disseminate information and raise awareness on gender and gender-based violence issues. An Increase in women’s voices was reported in the Myanmar and Zambia projects with new local women leaders participating in decision making.

Last year two new projects were added in our DFAT funding mix. Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) in three Vanuatu provinces and Integrated Gender Project in Zambia. These projects were made possible from lower funds requested by our partner ECARE in the Philippines. Also, funds freed up from the PNG adult literacy project, as additional allocation, was received from the PNG Church Partnership Program which was also funded by DFAT. In Zambia, effective processes resulted in an increase in number of people reporting Gender-based Violence cases, numbers being counselled, numbers referred to police or other institutions and cases resolved. The Vanuatu WASH project contributed to improvements in sanitation and hygiene. Households who participated in the training learned to construct ventilated and improved pit latrines.

There was a lot of activity in our Papua New Guinea Church Partnership Program (PNG-CPP) last year, including a mid-phase high-level review by DFAT, and two evaluations commissioned by ABM – an organisational review of Anglicare PNG and an impact evaluation of the adult literacy program. Among the recommendations from the DFAT review was the transitioning of program management and funding from Australian NGOs directly to local PNG partners. This is envisaged to promote greater leadership and ownership of the program by PNG churches, an initiative that is highly encouraged by ABM in our work both with Anglicare PNG and ACPNG. ABM’s continuing efforts to develop the organisational capacity of both Anglicare and ACPNG is further informed by the two ABM evaluations conducted last year.

In the Philippines, the evaluation results of ECARE Philippines covering 6 years of programming showed that additional income of community members derived from the program consequently led to life-changing impacts. Many invested their additional incomes in household and livelihood assets. The evaluation has informed the design of the ECARE project we are now funding which is primarily focused on capacity development of farmers’ and community groups specifically around governance and financial management.

Going forward, ABM(AID) is embarking on a new strategic plan as our current five-year plan finishes this year. We look forward to a listening journey with our partners and our supporters to forge the way ahead, continuing the work together and joining in God’s mission.

In FY 2018/19, ABM’s community development activities reached more than 50 communities in 7 countries. Our activities were particularly strong in WASH (water, sanitation and hygiene) and women’s empowerment.

In all, 47 new water supply points were built across Vanuatu, the Solomon Islands, PNG, Myanmar, and Kenya. These dams, tanks and wells were accessed by more than 20,000 people. In addition, toilet construction (either funded by ABM or through locals being inspired to construct their own) gave toilet access to 1,526 people. 3,497 people attended hygiene awareness raising sessions, learning about hand washing and sanitation-related illnesses.

Women and girls accounted for 60% of project participants across all ABM(AID) programs in FY2018/19. Women comprised a majority of the 2,543 adult literacy learners in PNG and Vanuatu, and a majority of the 2,136 poor farmers who attended agriculture training in Kenya, the Philippines and Myanmar. Gender equality and gender-based violence were discussed across seven countries in sessions attended by 37,795 people. Women emerged in management committees for farmer business groups, savings and loans groups, adult literacy schools and water supply maintenance.

The following sections provide more details about ABM(AID)’s work last year across seven program areas: Humanitarian Response, Disaster Risk Reduction and Climate Change Adaptation, Water and Sanitation, Gender, Education and Training, Economic Empowerment and Food Security, and Institutional Strengthening.
Humanitarian Response

ABM supported humanitarian disaster responses in Vanuatu, the Solomon Islands, PNG, the Philippines, Indonesia, Palestine and Mozambique last year. Our responses assisted more than 20,000 disaster-affected people.

The largest amount of ABM disaster response funding in FY 2018/19 was provided in PNG, where ABM provided Anglicare PNG with AUD$46,665 towards the 2018 earthquake response. This was spent on surveying and coordinating, installing water tanks in nine remote communities, and conducting hygiene awareness-raising. ABM’s second largest contribution was in the Philippines, where ECARE responded to Typhoon Mangkhut by distributing tents, flashlights, kitchen utensils and farm tools to 700 households.

In two humanitarian crises, we contributed to wider network responses:

1. the ACT Alliance (Action by Churches Together) response to the Sulawesi Tsunami in Indonesia, and
2. the Anglican Alliance response to Cyclone Idai in southern Africa, where ABM funds were directed to the response in Mozambique.

ABM contributed AUD$10,000 to each of these responses.

Disaster risk reduction initiatives continue to be integrated into ABM’s community development programs in PNG, Vanuatu, the Solomon Islands, the Philippines, Myanmar and Kenya. In the Solomon Islands, for example, ACOM ran two trainings on how to conduct a needs assessment following a disaster. When ADSE conducted farmer field days in eight locations in Kenya, the events included discussion of drought resistant crops like sorghum, green grams and cowpeas. Leading up to the events, ADSE even established demonstration plots in each of the eight locations.

ABM contributed $20,000 to the Australian CAN DO consortium (Church Agency Network Disaster Operations), which promoted disaster preparedness through church partners in Vanuatu, the Solomon Islands, PNG and Fiji. In FY 2018/19, CAN DO began mapping church evacuation centres using GIS software. The consortium also prepared a training manual and ran workshops with local church agencies to explore connections between theology and disaster preparedness.

Many kinds of disasters can be prevented or mitigated through environmental action. When some of VIMROD’s community groups in the Philippines teamed up with local governments to plant mangroves, the mangroves could serve as buffers against tsunamis, cyclones and storm surges as well as minimising coastal erosion. When CPM in Myanmar conducted dialogues in two communities about the impacts of forest clearing, one of the potential impacts related to landslides.

To mitigate the risk of soil erosion, ADSE ran trainings on tree planting, establishment of tree nurseries, promotion of grass planting, and construction of fuel-efficient stoves. Such stoves were subsequently adopted by 67 households, thereby reducing cutting down of trees for firewood. Through cooperation with local governments, 6,000 trees were planted at schools. ADSE also promoted zai pits (see picture above) and mulching to enhance soil fertility.

Some ABM partners also think climate change has raised sea levels and heightened the risk of devastating cyclones, floods and droughts. When ACOM Solomons installed water tanks in three locations, it noted that two of the locations required water tanks because rising sea level had made local ground water too salty. Taking the threat of climate change very seriously, ACOM Solomons ran a Climate Change awareness program with more than 200 students at a local high school, engaged with international researchers to more closely examine weather changes, and started making a climate change and Disaster Risk Reduction Video Documentary.

In the Philippines, ECARE encouraged its community groups to plant trees and taught them to apply Alternate Wetting and Drying Technologies to rice growing. These measures, ECARE said, were to mitigate Climate Change.

Disaster Risk Reduction and Climate Change Adaptation

Targets 13.1, 13.3, and 13b
Climate Action:
Take urgent action to combat climate change and its impacts.

Targets 15.1, 15.2, 15.3, and 15.5
Life on Land: Sustainably manage forests, combat desertification, halt and reverse land degradation, halt biodiversity loss.
Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH)

This was once again a strength of ABM’s development program. With 38 new water supply points were built last year in Vanuatu, the Solomon Islands, Myanmar, and Kenya. These dams, tanks and wells were accessed by 7,790 people. The total beneficiaries rose to over 25,000 after a further nine tanks were installed in PNG through one of our disaster response programs.

Sanitation and hygiene were widely promoted. Toilet construction (either funded by ABM or through locals being inspired to construct their own) gave toilet access to 1,626 people. Three hand washing basins installed in schools in Kenya benefited 681 pupils. Across Kenya, Myanmar, PNG and Vanuatu, 3,354 people attended hygiene awareness raising sessions, learning about hand washing and sanitation-related illnesses. These included 142 men and 110 women who attended sessions run by ACOM Vanuatu. The sessions helped mobilise 128 households to build their own sanitary bathrooms using local materials and recycled materials, and to build 61 refuse pits across 10 communities.

Case Study from Vanuatu:

WASH Volunteers Keith and Smith are very committed and passionate about people’s health. They assisted ACOM Vanuatu to install a rain water tank and build a toilet at the Sola Airport in Vanualava.

Smith commented, “I am very proud to participate in the implementation of the sanitation facilities at the Sola Airport. For so many years, we have visitors coming in and going out of Sola and have no access to sanitation facilities nor drinking water. Both adults, children and sometimes tourist and visitors from other islands were using the same bushes for toilets.”

After coordinating with the local government, ACOM provided stipends and cement to assist construction of the sanitation facilities. Smith explained, “No more unwanted bush or beach visits... [and now people are also] able to drink from the newly installed tank and filled their bottles of water...People walking far distances are able to wash their bodies and wash before boarding the plane, and especially babies.”

Targets 6.1, 6.2, 6.3, 6.4, 6.6 and 6b

Clean Water and Sanitation: Ensure access to water and sanitation for all.
Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women

Women’s empowerment continued to be one of the strengths of ABM’s development program. In FY 2018/19, 60% of all ABM project participants were women and girls. The 2,543 adult literacy learners attended literacy classes organised by our partners in PNG and Vanuatu. Women comprised the majority of these learners.

In Kenya, the Philippines and Myanmar, the story was similar. Out of 2,136 poor farmers who attended trainings on agricultural and fisheries technologies, women comprised the majority.

ABM partners in Kenya, Zambia, Myanmar, Vanuatu and PNG conducted awareness-raising around gender equality and domestic violence. Their messages reached over 37,000 people. Women emerged in management committees for farmer business groups, savings and loans groups, adult literacy schools and water supply maintenance.

In Kenya, out of 34 people in the management committees of cooperatives in Kiangini and Kyumbuke, 24 are women.

In Zambia, counselling was provided to 3,577 people (mostly female) affected by gender-based violence. 89 cases were subsequently referred to other service providers like police, courts, clinics and traditional leaders.

In PNG, ABM led an evaluation of Anglicare’s July 2016-May 2019 adult literacy (AL) program.

Of those survey respondents who spoke about impacts for women, virtually all said the impacts were positive. Many spoke about how opportunities for women in their communities had been greatly enhanced. One AL committee member in Isuga said, ‘Gender equality has had a huge impact, especially within the church level. Males are respecting females in shared responsibilities such as leadership sharing.’

Elizabeth takes her grandchild to her Adult Literacy class in PNG. © ABM/Ivy Wang, 2019.
Goal 5: Targets 5.1, 5.2, 5.3, and 5.5
Gender Equality: Achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls.

Support groups for women facing domestic violence were set up in Mzenje, Petauke Boma, and Mawanda. These groups each received grants of ZMW4,000.00 (approx. AUD533) and used these grants to start poultry businesses, rearing broiler chickens.

The groups have plans for moulding bricks to build big poultry houses because the ones they are using are not theirs and are too small.

A fourth group in Msoro managed to start a saloon and barber shop through the start-up capital they received from the project.
Education and Training

ABM funded adult literacy classes run by Anglicare PNG and by ACOM Vanuatu.

ACOM’s adult literacy program in Vanuatu reached 211 learners across 11 rural communities (191 of the learners were new to the program this year). The program also trained 32 new volunteer teachers, 26 of whom were women.

In PNG, Anglicare’s adult literacy program (run in conjunction with all 5 Anglican dioceses of PNG) was much bigger. It reached 2,345 learners across 66 communities. Of these, 356 learners graduated one literacy level and 39 learners transitioned to formal education. The program also trained 89 adult literacy teachers.

Community contributions were strong in both Vanuatu and PNG. Local committees built the classrooms and organised graduation ceremonies. In some communities, learners gave gifts to their teachers or local government schools provided stationery. In PNG, teachers received small stipends whereas in Vanuatu they were purely volunteers.

In Kenya, ADSE ’s program supported formal education by mobilising the planting of 6,000 seedlings across six primary schools and installed a water tank and wash basin in each of three primary schools. ADSE also established a hygiene club in each of the six schools to raise hygiene awareness and to monitor the presence of soap and water in wash basins.

In Zambia, ZACOP staff visited three schools to discuss issues affecting school attendance, like early marriage, early sexual activity and gender-based violence. They also encouraged local community groups to discuss issues affecting school attendance.

All partners ran community trainings. For example, ZACOP in Zambia trained counsellors to listen to cases of gender-based violence. ADSE ran trainings in agriculture, livestock breeding and construction of dams and fuel-efficient stoves. ACOM-V organised trainings in plumbing and toilet construction. CPM provided trainings on leadership, child protection and agriculture. ACOM-S trained 15 facilitators in the Diocese of Hanuato'o to roll out ‘positive parenting’ trainings in their districts and communities.

Anglicare PNG Adult Literacy program evaluation.

Anglicare PNG’s Adult Literacy Program reached over 3,000 program participants in FY 2016/17, over 2,000 in FY 2017/18 and 1,723 in July-Dec 2018. A majority of learners were women. The program was appreciated by communities, as shown by the generally strong community contributions. Surveys revealed the program was also highly appreciated by learners. As their literacy and numeracy skills improved, learners were able to increase their participation in community life, as well as exchange messages with their family members and engage with their children’s schooling.

The evaluation identified areas for improvement, like increasing the level of support to teachers, including increasing training opportunities and increasing monitoring visits to schools. The evaluation also recommended greater efforts to link the adult literacy schools with local organisations that could assist with materials or training.

Another recommendation was to expand Anglicare’s Monitoring and Evaluation system, including...

- Tracking the ratio of students / schools per diocesan staff member and having a target ratio.
- Tracking the number of visits to each school per year (by diocesan, ABM or Anglicare HQ staff) and what materials are distributed to each school.
- Tracking the different kinds of trainings received per diocese, who received them, and any follow-up of those trainings.

ABM also drew lessons for our own development practice. We reflected on ways that large volumes of data might be more efficiently collated and analysed. We also noted that evaluations can be a good opportunity to have a deeper discussion with local partners about monitoring and evaluation systems.

Case Study:

Salome (19 years old) completed year 7 of formal schooling in 2014 without being able to read or write. By attending Anglicare’s AL School in Saksak (NGI Diocese) in 2019, she was learning to read short messages and prices at the local market. Her teacher, a catechist, had also held discussions in class about social issues like HIV-AIDS, gender and alcohol.

When asked about the biggest change in her life, Salome said, “Now I can talk to my peer group. Before I was an observer. I didn’t feel free to talk”.

Economic Empowerment and Food Security

ABM’s programs in the Philippines, Kenya, Zambia, Myanmar, PNG and Vanuatu provided various agriculture trainings to 2,136 rural villagers and other economic empowerment trainings to an additional 526 people. Partners reported that 1,083 people had improved their household incomes.

In the Philippines, ABM partner VIMROD helped three new community groups to plan their own business initiative and provided small ‘starter grants’ to six previously established community groups. A second ABM partner, ECARE, assisted four new community groups and 40 previously established community groups to develop their own businesses. ECARE also assisted 17 of the groups to gain government registration, enabling easier access to government-led trainings and programs. ECARE reported that 1,351 households surveyed had increased their income from 6% to 59% from their program activities, while 184 had increased their income by 3% to 5%.

A particular philosophy in ECARE’s economic empowerment program has also provided learnings for ABM. This is the receivers to givers philosophy, which emphasises that borrowers do not ‘repay’ a loan but instead ‘pass on’ the money to another needy community business group, so the borrower takes pride in passing the money on. Noting that more than 40 business groups have been established since 2015 and their current membership totals over 1200 people, ABM has been funding other partners to travel to the Philippines to study ECARE’s receivers to givers approach.

In Kenya, ABM supported two separate livelihoods projects. Through Eldoret Diocese, seven people with disability were trained, mentored and provided with a small no-interest loan to develop a small business. Five people with disability have reported increased incomes and three of them have begun to repay their loans so the money can circulate to new borrowers. Through ADSE, ABM supported a much larger project whereby 1,057 poor farmers attended trainings on new agricultural approaches. To assist the farmers with irrigation, the ADSE program also helped them build 2 sand dams and one sump well.

In Zambia, ZACOP’s program included grants to two kinds of community groups: ‘survivors’ of gender-based violence and community groups formed to raise awareness against gender-based violence, child marriage and other forms of gender discrimination.

In PNG, Anglicare continued running life skills and livelihood trainings. 297 participants completed these trainings, which were mainly conducted via Anglicare’s adult literacy schools. Skills included computing, baking, sewing, screen printing, soap making and knitting.

In Myanmar, 77 people in two communities attended training on new agriculture techniques, including making organic fertilisers. The same two communities each formed a village development committee. These committees were assisted to plan economic initiatives, which then received material support in the form of a sesame press, banana trees and a rice mill.

Income generation group in Hpa an, Myanmar. © CPM Myanmar, used with permission.
Adora (pictured right) originally thought the VIMROD project just provided hand-outs. Slowly she realised it was about helping local people to generate their own income. It also, she said, taught her and her community group “the values of strengthening family and community relations, taking care of the environment, sustainable agriculture, asset-sharing and organizational and financial management through Planning, Implementation, Monitoring and Evaluation... My organization through free-collective work, helped me establish my yard garden. We utilised what is in the community without spending much. As part of our commitment, we have now a seed-sharing system. From the time I was able to harvest, I felt a sense of fulfilment. Aside that my family can save a lot for our daily viand, I am sure that I am able to provide my children with safe and nutritious food.”

ECARE program evaluation

Examining the July 2013 – June 2018 period, the evaluation identified several key impacts from ECARE’s ABCD program:

1. Access to low interest loans. ECARE referred to the loans to community groups as ‘grant backs’ and to the interest as ‘add-ons’. This was to change mindsets from repaying a loan to a more positive responsibility to pass on a grant to another community group.

2. Build-up of capital. The program enabled community groups ‘to build up the capital assets of the individual members as well as the organisational capital’. By the time of the evaluation, two groups had become financially independent and stable, to the point where they no longer relied on external funding.

3. New behaviours and structures in the communities. From 2013-2018, a total of 242 community groups were organized. These had each identified and utilised their assets, empowered women (because a majority of the members were women) and developed a mutual assistance mindset.

The evaluation also made recommendations:

1. As community groups manage increasing amounts of receivers to givers funds and increase the number of their members accordingly, they will require higher and more complex management knowledge, skills and processes. ECARE should assist them to evolve their organisational structures from simple to complex.

2. The revolving receivers to givers fund, which currently stands at P60 M, could be grown by attracting social investments. This would enable the program to extend R2G to new communities, while fostering operational self-reliance.

Goal 1: Targets 1.1, 1.2, 1.4, and 1.5
No Poverty: End poverty in all its forms everywhere.

Goal 2: Targets 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, and 2.4
Zero Hunger.

Goal 10: Targets 10.1 and 10.2
Reduced Inequalities: Reduce inequality within and among countries.

Goal 15: Targets 15.1, 15.2, 15.3, and 15.5
Life on Land: Sustainably manage forests, combat desertification, halt and reverse land degradation, halt biodiversity loss.
Institutional Strengthening

ABM continued to help local partners to strengthen their work with poor communities. Our biggest focus was in the Pacific.

We supported Agents of Change training, a kind of ‘Community Development 101’ training run by Anglican Alliance in Vanuatu, and PNG. Some of the trainees were clergy. We also supported representatives from the Solomon Islands and Fiji to attend a climate change training in Brisbane.

In Vanuatu, we supported four volunteer plumbers in ACOM’s water supply program to upgrade their plumbing skills.

In PNG, ABM supported an Institutional Sustainability Review and a program evaluation. These studies provided Anglicare PNG with ideas for the future. Some of the ideas are in the education section above. In addition, ABM’s part-time in-country Liaison Consultant assisted Anglicare with planning and reporting. ABM’s Executive Director also visited ACPNG and Anglicare quarterly to support strategy development. ABM’s part-time in-country Liaison Consultant assisted Anglicare with planning and reporting. ABM’s Executive Director also visited ACPNG and Anglicare quarterly to support strategy development. ABM also supported an Anglicare representative to attend a climate change conference in Bangkok, supported finance training, and supported United Edge training on leadership and justice-based development. Finally, four Anglicare PNG staff went to Philippines to learn about ECARE’s Assets Based Community Development (ABCD) and ECARE’s Program Manager visited PNG to facilitate an ABCD strategy workshop.

Outside the Pacific, ABM supported further financial management training in Zambia. In Myanmar, ABM led a wide-ranging workshop that discussed child protection, fraud and monitoring and evaluation. In the Philippines, ABM supported two staff from ECARE and VIMROD to attend a regional climate change advocacy training hosted by ACT Alliance. Both participants were involved in planning an advocacy program that can be applied nationally. ABM continued to encourage cross-learning among partners and supported VIMROD and ECARE staff to participate in a climate resilience workshop hosted by Episcopal Relief and Development, and the Anglican Alliance workshop on asset-based community and church transformation. Fraud workshops and discussions around the prevention of sexual exploitation, abuse and harassment were also had with 20 partner staff in the Philippines and Myanmar. With support from ABM, VIMROD has finalised its 5-year program strategy in early 2019.

On request by its regional management board, VIMROD management staff has started capacity development workshops in selected dioceses in Visayas and Mindanao in FY2018/19. The main objective of this 3-year initiative is to develop diocesan capacity to implement community projects. Since the trainings started in FY2018-2019, at least one diocese has started implementing projects and has put up its own development desk.

The ABM Partnerships Unit and the Church to Church Program continue to support Partners in building up their capability to minister within their communities through relationship building, and through leadership formation training and theological education.

ABM’s Partnerships Unit aims to help dioceses and parishes which desire to be in a companion link with counterparts overseas. The thinking behind the Partnerships Unit is expressed in the document Suggested Guidelines for Successful Church Partnerships – see abmission.org/resources

ABM’s Church-to-Church projects aim to help our Overseas Partners to live out the Five Marks of Mission, particularly Marks 1 and 2, which seek to ‘Witness to Christ’s saving, forgiving and reconciling love for all people’ and ‘Build welcoming, transforming communities of faith’.

ABM’s Church-to-Church projects focus on theological education and training. For example, through our Encounter Program we have been supporting Nant Hnin Hnin Aye, a lecturer at Holy Cross Seminary in Yangon (Church of the Province of Myanmar) to do a post-graduate degree in New Testament Studies at Holy Trinity College in Melbourne. We have continued to support St John’s Seminary in Kitwe, Zambia, founded by an Australian priest, Fr Charles Helms. Nine students have recently graduated, and there are eight in this year’s intake. The seminary offers a four-year diploma course. We have also continued to support Newton Theological College (NTC), the Anglican Church of Papua New Guinea’s ordination training institution. At NTC we have been supporting the college to renew and develop its curriculum, improve its library resources, upgrade the water system and provide lecturers for intensive courses. Like St John’s Seminary, NTC offers a four-year diploma course.

One of the projects that the Good Friday Gift funded is the St Luke’s Rehabilitation Centre in Lebanon, which is run by the Episcopal Diocese of Jerusalem. A vocational workshop and training program which include a variety of activities that cater to the underprivileged youth and children is one of the programs run by the centre. And one of the activities is food manufacturing. Through the Good Friday Gift, the centre was able to purchase a reliable machine that permits these young people to go on with their vocational training in chocolate making.

Thank you to all those parishes and individuals who have supported us throughout the year – ABM couldn’t do its work without the open hearts and open hands of people like you.
The 2018/19 financial year saw the Marketing & Fundraising department introduce new methods of communicating with supporters via online channels, as well as through community fundraising projects.

As we move toward the digital future, it is exciting to see growth in the areas of our social media, web content, video production, and supporter newsletters. Not only are these methods of communication helpful to our fundraising, they are also extremely important channels for us to thank our supporters and keep everyone up to date on the progress made to any of the programs.

There have also been some significant staffing changes to the Marketing and Fundraising team over the past year. I would like to welcome Tyrone Bain, who comes to us with a wealth of knowledge in digital media and design. Tyrone has already made a significant difference to all of our appeals, publications and digital displays.

I’d also like to welcome Lyn Moorfoot who has recently joined ABM as the Supporter Engagement Manager and brings with her an amazing amount of experience in relationship management, philanthropy, fundraising, and stakeholder engagement. Lyn has been involved with the Anglican Church in Australia for many years.

I would like to thank Vivienne, Julianne, Meagan, Fiona, Tyrone and Lyn for all of your hard work throughout the past year. Your passion is nothing short of amazing.

We received total revenue of $3,031,839. This is comprised of 59% from the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), 34% from individuals, churches and communities, 7% from bequests, investments and other income.

It is pleasing to note an increase in revenue with DFAT funding increased by 22% and donations increased by 15% when compared with FY 2018.

The AID Programs’ expenditure increased by 6% when compared with FY 2018. This is due to the increase in DFAT funding.

ABM AID’s public fundraising costs increased by 25% when compared with FY 2018 as a result of a fundraising strategy review process.

However, ABM AID managed to achieve a reduction of 8% on the Accountability and Administration costs when compared with FY 2018.

One major change to the Income Statement for FY 2019 was a significant increase of $2,703,079 in Other Comprehensive Income, which is due to a revaluation of the office building.

ABM AID continued to maintain a sound financial position at 30 June 2019. It has the capacity to meet its obligations as and when they become due and payable.

2019 was another positive and productive year for ABM’s Anglicans in Development (AID) Programs. With the support from generous individuals, churches and communities, and the ongoing support from the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), we were able to continue working with our overseas partners and delivered the core programs in the areas of Integrated Livelihood Improvement, Education, Institutional Strengthening, Food Security, Water and Sanitation and Emergency Relief. We are thankful for the generosity of ABM’s supporters and the Australian Government.
