

ABM Anglican Board of Mission - Australia
Working for Love, Hope & Justice

ANNUAL REPORT 2010/11

Our Vision

ABM wants to see people everywhere experience the wholeness of life God offers in Jesus Christ, and to this end supports our Partners as they participate in God's mission.

Our Purpose

ABM believes in a world where all people enjoy God's promise of love, hope and justice. We work to see this belief become a reality.

Our Profile

ABM is the national mission agency of the Anglican Church of Australia.

We work with Anglican Church Partners to develop and provide for the spiritual, social and material needs of people, both overseas and within indigenous communities in Australia.

We help the Anglican Church and the wider community realise and respond to the call for each of us to be a part of God's hope for the world.

Five Marks of Mission

ABM grounds all of its work in one or more of these Marks of Mission.

- Witness to Christ's saving, forgiving and reconciling love for all people
- Build welcoming, transforming communities of faith
- Stand in solidarity with the poor and needy
- Challenge injustice and oppression
- Protect, care for and renew life on our planet

Cover: Francisca Napolitano is a farmer in the village of Calupan, Philippines, where barley, corn and rice are the major sources of livelihood. Francisca and her community have been supported by ABM's agriculture and food project to build drying and storage facilities for their harvest.

Francisca is a house wife and during school days she works while her husband plants vegetables, corn and rice. The solar drier, or pavement, that has been provided is used to dry corn and rice products so farmers don't have to sell the produce to traders, who have these facilities, for reduced costs.

In tears, Francisca told ABM, "The only thing I can say is thank you, thank you very much because you have chosen our poor Barangay [community] to give this project and pavement because we really need it and it helps us so thank you, thank you. I hope you will not stop with this but also help other Barangays who need your help."

Foreword by the Executive Director

I am pleased to present the Annual Report for the Financial Year 2010–2011.

This past year for the Anglican Board of Mission – Australia has been marked by growth, challenges and change. ABM has seen its programs and partnerships expand, especially in the region of Africa. We have responded more rapidly and effectively to emergencies such as the Tsunami in Japan, the Earthquake in Christchurch and the Famine in East Africa. Yet, at the same time, we have experienced significant staff changes and have reviewed and upgraded all our financial processes and risk management strategies to ensure a greater accountability to our support base.

In early 2011 ABM was successful in achieving re-accreditation with AusAID. This gives ABM access to some government funding for our work as part of the Australian International Development sector. We regard this as an indication that the processes and strategies we have set in place are working. Particularly pleasing was the recognition during the accreditation process of the strength of the reciprocal relationships which ABM has built up over many years with its Partners.

However, this Annual Report is not just a record of the fruits of ABM's labour and that of our Partners. It is also a testimony to the generous support which we continue to receive from our donors and many others, who each in their own way, have contributed to the work that we do.

We are very thankful to all the parishes, individuals and schools; to those who serve on the ABM Board, various management committees, ABM Auxiliary, mission committees and volunteers, all of whom have given of their money, time, enthusiasm and prayers. Each one of us has played a role in witnessing to the good news of Jesus Christ, whether it has been through the support of ABM generally or specifically through our Church to Church Program, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Program or Community Development Program.

ABM looks forward to continuing to partner with Australian Anglicans as we, together, fulfil God's purpose in mission – transforming lives and being transformed ourselves in the process.

God bless,

Programs Director's Report

This year has been a year of learning for ABM's programs.

We are putting a more intentional focus on gender equality and improving health and development outcomes for women. This improves the lives not only of women, but also of the men and children in the women's communities. Work with our Partners in Zambia, Papua New Guinea, Vanuatu and China are examples where this focus is starting to bear fruit.

We formed a new partnership with the Episcopal Church of Sudan during the year, in conjunction with the diocese of Adelaide. Currently our support is focussing on secondary education and on building an organisational infrastructure that will allow greater coordination and effective implementation of the health ministry of the church in the world's newest country.

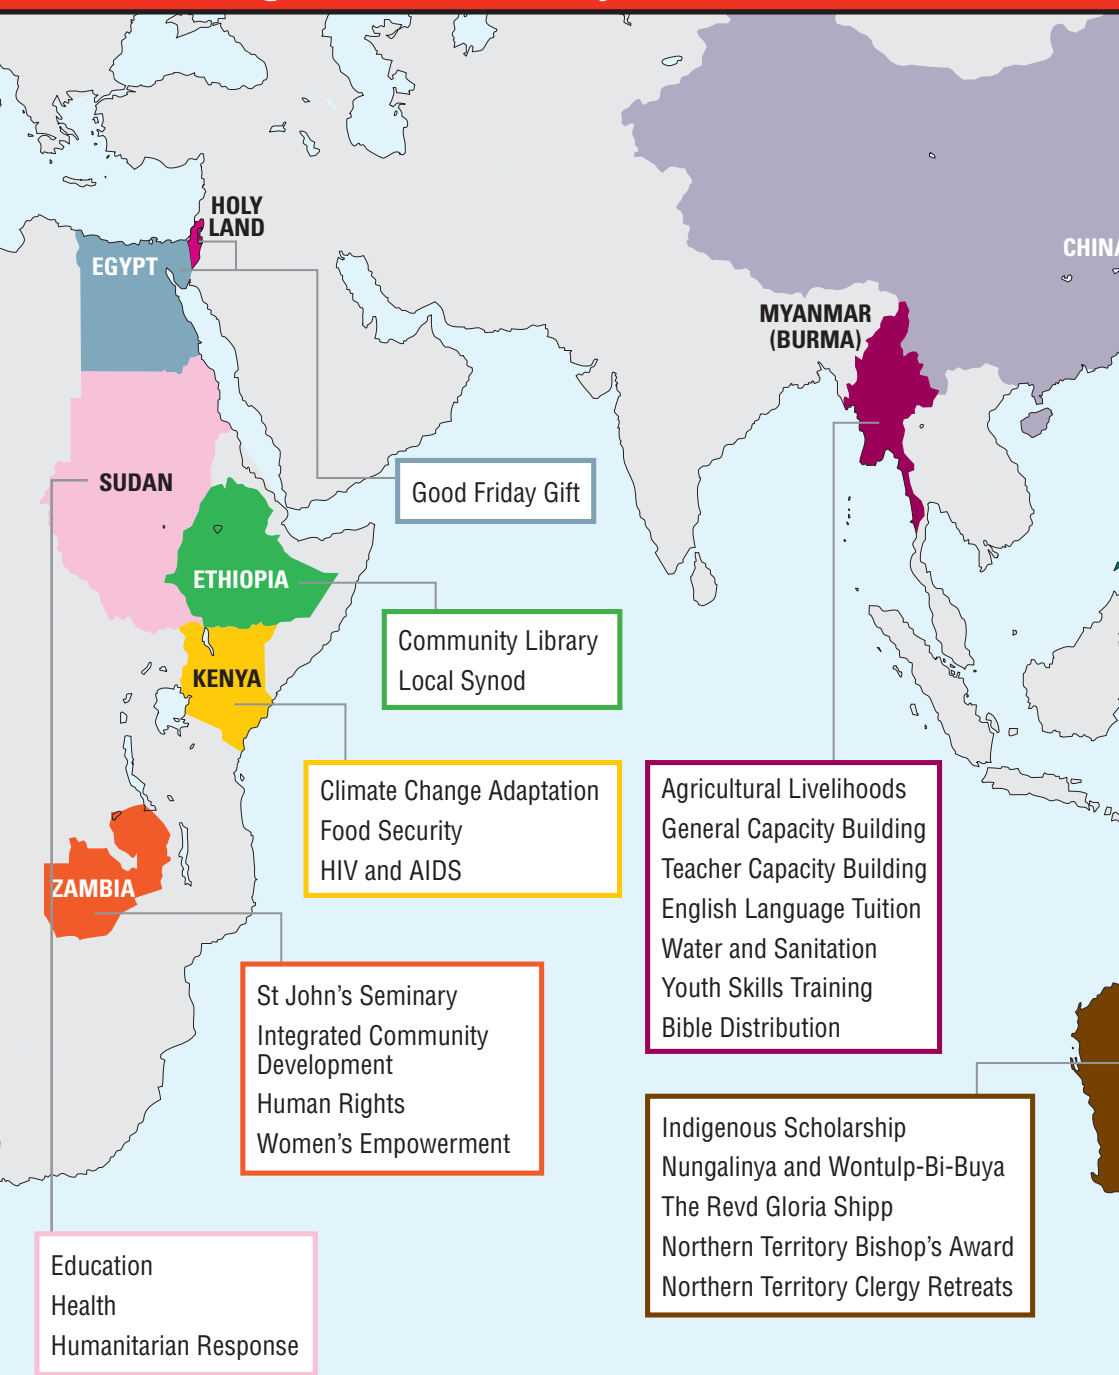

At the end of the year we learned we had been re-accredited by AusAID for a further five-year period. This is good news as it enables us to continue to serve poor and marginalised communities in countries where ABM has church partnerships around the world. Being accredited means rigorous monitoring of our programs and the ways in which we work with our Partners, as well as maintaining high standards in the organisation at home. During this year we have particularly increased our financial monitoring of all our programs, with regular audits and increased checking of Partner systems and operations. The outcomes are that ABM becomes better at what it does, our Partners improve their systems, and communities are served in ways that are accountable and transparent. We have also learnt that there are clear benefits to working with a team approach, with the implementing Partner and other donor Partners forming part of that team. Thus, learning can be shared across a greater number of organisations, with subsequent improvements in both efficiency and efficacy.

ABM's Church to Church Program has continued to support theological and leadership training, which is leading to growth of ministries and strengthening of our Partner churches. A key component of this support is our successful Encounter program, where priests come from Solomon Islands, Vanuatu and Papua New Guinea to spend a couple of months hosted by Australian churches, working and learning about ministry here.

Our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Program continues to support the theological training and ministries of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Anglicans, especially in the dioceses of Bathurst, North Queensland and Northern Territory. And we have continued to provide an annual scholarship for a local Aboriginal secondary student at the Gawura campus of St Andrew's Cathedral School in Sydney.

Communications and Fundraising Manager's Report

In the 12 months to July 2011, the Communications and Fundraising team had a “changing of the guard”.

We bade farewell to Melany Markham as our Manager; filled a long-standing vacancy in Appeals and Bequests with Michael Begaud; Michael Robinson took on Speakers' Organiser and I moved from the Speakers' role to managing the team.

I would like to start by thanking the team for their support and hard work. We are all only as good as the people who support us, both professionally and personally. I have been blessed at ABM with a remarkable team. In fact, the whole organisation is full of hard working, dedicated staff who go above and beyond the call of duty for the people and communities that we serve.

Also under the communications department are the volunteers. We have an army of people who do a plethora of roles for ABM in whatever capacity they are able to. I am unable to list them all but they deserve our prayers and thanks, for without them ABM would not be able to survive.

When I joined ABM, I soon saw that the focus needed to be on doing fewer things better. We are well on the way but the team still produces more than is possible to maintain quality and creativity.

Over the coming year, we will be looking at communicating better whilst spending less time in the production stage. The 'Anglican Giving Survey' in November 2010 is helping us understand how your beliefs shape your support for charities and causes that matter to you. Please remember us in your prayers.

ABM exists to bring love, hope and justice to the lives of communities that are served by our Partners. We are only able to do that with the support of all our generous donors. To them, on behalf of our Partners and their communities – Thank You.
